UNTO
JEAN JEADARD de BEAUCHAMP.

It appears that Dame Marie Thereze Collon, widow of Sr. Huche, and tutrix of their minor child, had renounced the property in favor of the creditors (which renunciation was duly homologated) and they in turn offered said property at public auction, whereupon it was adjudicated to Sr. de Beauchamp, highest bidder.

Said adjudicatee's title is confirmed and it is ordered that he enjoy peaceable possession of the property.

Complaint in Registry by a negro named Congo, Public Executioner, accompanied by the Attorney-General of the King, that he was assaulted by 2 negroes yesterday, near the King's plantation. One of the men was a runaway negro, owned by Augustin Langlois. They left behind them a torn blanket and an old coat, and as his life would not be secure if such assassins were tolerated, he makes this report in the presence of the Procurator-General, that investigation be made and the owner of the blanket and coat found to be dealt with according to law. He declared that he did know how to write.

Said complaint is certified to and signed.

SUCCESSION OF JOSEPH MOREAU.

Petition of Sr. D'Auseville,
(Administrator of Vacant Successions)
Curator of the Vacant Succession of Joseph Moreau.

Petitioner represents that the judicial sale of property of said succession has been delayed for the reason that Ozenne (also written Ozonne and Ozanne), son-in-law of decedent, has failed to deliver to petitioner in his said capacity a certain anvil which decedent has owned and used in his blacksmith shop, and which Sr. Ozenne claims was taken by Moreau, son of decedent.

Petitioner prays for judgment against Ozenne ordering him to pay the sum of 100 livres representing the value of said anvil (said Ozenne to have his own recourse against Moreau Junior), and ordering the sale at public auction of the remainder of the equipment and tools of the blacksmith shop.
