to petition of
Sr. Joseph Lassus Marsilly,
Special tutor of Genevieve Damaron,
minor daughter of François Damaron
and Françoise Trepagnier.

(Unsigned Copy)

Answering the allegations of plaintiff's petition, defendant avers that the sale of the house and lot of said succession, to her late husband, Petit de Livilliers, which plaintiff seeks to annul, was made after compliance with all formalities and by virtue of a judgment of the Council rendered contradictorily and on the conclusions of the proper persons acting for the King, in the case between Sr. Pasquier (agent and attorney in fact of Dame Marie Le Comte, widow of Pierre Duchemin), and Sr. Macarty, Tutor of the minor Genevieve Damaron. Answering particularly plaintiff's allegation that he was not present at the adjudication, defendant avers that plaintiff not being present at the third offering at auction, Judge Salmon, on the recommendations of the Procurator General, kindly postponed the adjudication by ordering a fourth advertisement, posting, publication and crying at auction; that plaintiff was present at said fourth offering and at the adjudication to Petit de Livilliers for 3,100 livres.

SUCCESSION OF SIEUR CHARLES PETIT de LIVILLIERS.

Proces verbal by Dame Marie Louise Malbec, widow of decedent, of family meeting held in behalf of their minor children.

The said family meeting was convened by order of the Superior Council on the petition of said widow, Dame de Livilliers, for the purpose of electing a tutor and special tutor
to the following minors, issue of her marriage
with Charles Petit de Livilliers:

	Age (about)
Charles Cezard Petit de Livilliers,	6 years
Magdelaine Victoire Petit de "	8 "
Antoinette Pelagie " " "	7 "
Louis Mathurin " " "	21 mons.
Pelagie " " "	6 "

Dame Marie Louise Malbec, widow of Charles Petit de Livilliers, was elected tutrix of her said minor children. Sieur Giles Augustin Payen, Chevalier de Noyan, was elected their special tutor.

The tutrix and special tutor took their oaths faithfully to perform the duties of their offices, after which the deliberations of said

family meeting were duly homologated.

and

Inventory of property of decedent taken before M. Bizoton, Commissioner of the Navy at Mobile;
Mr. Fleuriau, Procurator General, and Chevalier de Noyan, special tutor of minor children of decedent.

The property consisted in part of household furniture and furnishings. In a drawer of a table was found a quantity of Spanish and French money. There are inventoried numerous articles of household linen (including nineteen dozens of towels), silverware, wearing apparel, and ten slaves "at the house in town", including four negresses, four negro children and two negroes.

The real estate consists of two lots of ground,
adjoining each other with improvements thereon (situated in New Orleans), and a plantation situated at a distance of 1-1/2 leagues from the city, measuring 6 arpents front by the usual depth.

On the plantation are 31 slaves, including

Petition of Dame Louise Estienne Malbec, widow of Charles Petit de Livilliers.

Petitioner alleges that she and Sr. Bouche de Grandpre are the only relatives of the minor children of decedents, on the paternal side, and that she desires to become the tutrix of said minors.

Petitioner further alleges that on the maternal side said minors have their grandparents, Sieur and Dame Gallard Chamilly, but that they are aged and that in the course of nature they could not be expected to rear the children to their majority.

Petitioner further alleges that the minors are indebted to the Company of the Indies; that their property consists solely of slaves; that it is necessary that said slaves be managed; that they have threatened to drown themselves rather than remain, ill nourished and badly treated.

Petitioner further shows that she is willing to board the minors without charge and to send them to boarding school on a part time basis. She also intends to hire the negroes and use the proceeds to pay the Company of the Indies.

Petitioner prays to be appointed tutrix and in the alternative, should the Court decide to elect Sr. Gallard as tutor, she prays for an order to lease said negroes at public auction for account of said minors.

* Petitioner also prays for the election of Sr. Grandpre as tutor; or that she be named tutrix and that Sr. Grandpre or another person be named special tutor.
